

multimat[®]

be comfortable sleep warm

INDIVIDUALLY TESTED
AS STANDARD
FULLY GUARANTEED

In an extreme environment, you want to be assured of a good night's sleep... So make Multimat your first choice.

With over 20 years' of experience manufacturing sleeping mats, our self inflating and foam ranges have been tried and tested in the most extreme environments on our planet.

Don't worry if you're not going to the ends of the earth, because whatever your requirements we have a range of sleeping mats just for you. Choose from our Family Value through to Family Premium, Adventure Racing, Expedition or Advance Camp range.

For further information on our complete range of mats and stockists please visit:

www.multimat.uk.com

Whenever. Wherever. Whoever.

Gary Rolfe has travelled 11,000 summer and winter Canadian Arctic miles with dogs. His Multimats have experienced a yearly temperature range of 81°C (30°C above to minus 51°C).

"In summer my dogs and I cross hundreds of rivers, confront bears and deal with wolf packs. Wildlife here tends to eat what it pleases, including human beings. In perpetual polar winters it's cold enough to spit ice cubes. Brutal cold has a tendency to kill. In a tent I want sleep. I want insulation. I want warmth. I am demanding and use only gear that tolerates the torture I inflict upon it. Multimats do all this".

Gary uses Multimats from the Expedition and Advance Camp range. Away for years at a time his feedback is crucial for Multimat development. This winter Gary moves to Greenland.

For more about where Multimats have been with Gary visit:
www.garyrolfe.com